Aeham Ahmad was born in the city of Homs, Syria, in 1988. He began playing the piano at the age of four, and by the time he was a teenager, he was considered one of the most promising young pianists in Syria. In 2011, the Syrian Civil War broke out, and Homs became one of the most heavily contested cities in the country. Ahmad's family was forced to flee their home, and they eventually made their way to a refugee camp in Turkey.

In the refugee camp, Ahmad continued to play the piano. He would often play for the other refugees, and his music would bring them comfort and hope. In 2015, a video of Ahmad playing the piano in the refugee camp went viral. The video touched the hearts of millions of people around the world, and it helped to raise awareness of the plight of the Syrian refugees.

Ahmad was eventually granted asylum in Germany, where he now lives with his family. He continues to play the piano, and he has become a symbol of hope for the Syrian people. His story is a reminder that even in the darkest of times, there is always hope.
