Over the Fence is a 2006 American computer-animated comedy film produced by DreamWorks Animation and distributed by Paramount Pictures. The film was directed by Tim Johnson and stars Bruce Willis, Gary Shandling, Steve Carell, Wanda Sykes, Nick Nolte, Catherine O'Hara, William Shatner, and Avril Lavigne. The film tells the story of RJ, a raccoon who is trying to steal food from a group of animals who live in a suburban neighborhood. However, RJ's plans are thwarted when he is caught by the animals and is forced to work for them.

The neighbors in Over the Fence are a diverse group of animals, each with their own unique personality. There is Verne, a cautious turtle who is always worried about what might go wrong; Hammy, a hyperactive squirrel who is always getting into trouble; Stella, a kind-hearted skunk who is always willing to help others; and Ozzie, a grumpy old bear who is always complaining about something.

Despite their differences, the neighbors in Over the Fence are all able to come together and work together to achieve a common goal. In the film, the animals must work together to stop a group of humans from destroying their home. The animals must overcome their fears and differences in order to work together and save their home.
